

Press Release

October 31, 2013

“DMG Mori Seiki University” Integrated Into “DMG MORI ACADEMY”

DMG MORI SEIKI CO., LTD. (hereafter DMG MORI SEIKI) and DMG MORI SEIKI AKTIENGESELLSCHAFT (hereafter DMG MORI SEIKI AG) will change the names of their training facilities to DMG MORI ACADEMY as part of the unification of their company names on November 1.

The DMG MORI ACADEMY currently has bases in Japan, Germany, the USA, China, Singapore, Thailand and Russia and runs training covering the entire field of machining with a total of around 50 instructors along with the latest machine tools, measuring systems, auxiliary devices and CAD/CAM systems. It handles the training and various educational activities for about 11,000 members of staff across the DMG MORI SEIKI GROUP.

The DMG MORI ACADEMY has also developed an online education system named EOD, Education On Demand, that allows users to efficiently acquire knowledge not just about how to operate machines, but about machine installation, programming and preventive maintenance too, and makes training specific to individual industrial fields and a competency-based learning environment available anywhere and at any time.

To foster competent personnel who can play an active role globally with a wealth of knowledge and a high level of skills, the DMG MORI ACADEMY is developing a system of meticulous support right from the basics to practical machining while keeping pace with the changing times, and will continue making this system more comprehensive.

(1) Courses for Customers

Master Course (Covers basic operation to practical machining)
Advanced Course (Covers advanced skills to state-of-the-art machining techniques)
Maintenance School

(2) Personnel Training

- Skills training - Manufacturing training - Service training - Sales training - Supplier training
- National Trade Skill Test - EOD

Iga City, Mie

Chicago, Illinois