World Largest Global Solution Center Completed

This is to announce that DMG MORI CO., LTD. (hereinafter called DMG MORI) has remodeled its Iga Global Solution Center with a floor extension from 2,500 m² to 3,500 m². By this the center was reborn as one of the world largest machine tool exhibition sites, and it was revealed to visitors for the first time at IGA INNOVATION DAYS 2015 which was held from July 22.

At the Iga Global Solution Center, the latest premium design models equipped with the new operating system CELOS are displayed in a spacious site in such a way that visitors can see and learn about the features of each machine better than ever. Near the machine exhibition site is a newly opened cafe area where customers can sit down and have a discussion with our staff in a relaxed atmosphere. The bright and clean solution center, with a white floor and wall, uses the same equipment and furniture to create a sense of unity, which represents the DMG MORI's brand image.

The models are put on display by industry, including the automotive, aircraft, die & mold, and medical fields, as well as by model, and we are firmly determined to provide best products and solutions for each customer. Along with 58 cutting-edge display models, we showcase the "BIG CELOS" with a 108-inch monitor which visitors actually touch and experience, and the second generation "Porche 919 Hybrid" mock-up that joins the FIA World Endurance Championship. DMG MORI supports Porche as the exclusive premium partner. The main units and critical components manufactured in-company are also put on show. The Iga Global Solution Center also serves as a stage where we can work on solutions for customers' machining challenges and conduct experiments of state-of-the-art technologies.

DMG MORI is always ready to provide customers with the best engineering services including test cuts and machining demonstrations. We keep sending out future-oriented technical information from the Iga Global Solution Center and deliver the best products, applications and solutions to our customers.
